Assassination

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. VII. NORWICH, CONN., SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1865. No. 1947.

(To be issue Extra at Saturday.)

SAD NEWS

The President Assassinated

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, April 15.

To Maj. Gen. Dix:

Abraham Lincoln died this morning at twenty-two minutes after seven o'clock.

[Signed] E. M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, April 15—7, A. M.

The President was this evening assassinated and is dying.

Secretary Seward remains without change.

Frank is severely cut in the face, but will probably have to-day. Augusta Bulletin.

Major Stanwood was shot in the head.

It is now ascertained with reasonable certainty that the assassins were engaged in the conspiracy with Booth.

Within Booth was the card found after the President was shot, bearing a quotation in the Latin tongue, which is known to mean, "Sic semper tyrannis." The above description is the closest that can be made.

Booth's brother is under guard in Brooklyn.

That the assassins proceeded down the Potomac, March, has been ascertained.

Secretary Seward and his assistant were at the house this morning.

Booth and his co-conspirator were at the theatre last night, and, knowing the former's character, no further than known, no attempt at arrest was made.

Secretary Seward remains without change.

Major Stanwood was shot in the head.

It is now ascertained with reasonable certainty that the assassins were engaged in the conspiracy with Booth.

Within Booth was the card found after the President was shot, bearing a quotation in the Latin tongue, which is known to mean, "Sic semper tyrannis." The above description is the closest that can be made.

Booth's brother is under guard in Brooklyn.

That the assassins proceeded down the Potomac, March, has been ascertained.

Secretary Seward and his assistant were at the house this morning.

Booth and his co-conspirator were at the theatre last night, and, knowing the former's character, no further than known, no attempt at arrest was made.

Secretary Seward remains without change.

Frank is severely cut in the face, but will probably have to-day. Augusta Bulletin